

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

Peter N Varghese, AO

Leads the University's governing body, the Senate.

Dianne Cripps

Acts as Chancellor in the absence of the Chancellor, or if the office of the Chancellor is vacant.

Senate

The governing body of the University is the Senate, as constituted by the University of Queensland Act 1998. Senate has 22 members, comprising official members, appointed members, elected members and additional members. Following the resignation of Dr Jane Wilson on 11 November 2016 after 10 years service, on 27 February 2017 Senate elected Tonia Dwyer as the Deputy Chancellor.

Members serve a four-year term except student members who serve for two years. The four-year term of the 33rd Senate, which began on 1 January 2014, concluded on 31 December 2017. Elections were held in October to appoint elected members to the 34th Senate term commencing 1 January 2018.

In 2017 members did not receive payment for undertaking this role. Senate met seven times during 2017.

The University complies with the Voluntary Code of Best Practice for the Governance of Australian Universities, approved by the Ministerial Council for Tertiary Education and Employment in 2011.

Information Management

The University continues to promote compliance with the Public Records Act 2002, Information Standard 40: Recordkeeping and Information Standard 31: Retention and Disposal of Public Records.

In 2017 UQ made the following records management improvements:

- implemented a staged rollout of the University's Electronic Document and Records Management System (EDRMS), including the issue of additional licences across the University
- enhanced online training resources to assist units to manage their own records and promote a paperless office
- successfully piloted the transition of employee records to a digital format
- continued automatic capture of records through linking network drives.

Public Sector Act

In terms of its obligations under the Public Sector Ethics Act 1994, the University has a Code of Conduct that sets out the expectations for University staff in relation to professional conduct. All continuing and fixed-term staff are required to complete an assessable online course to learn how the Code of Conduct applies to them; casual staff are also strongly encouraged to complete the course.

The training is consistent with the University's obligations under the Public Sector Ethics Act 1994, which requires the University to provide appropriate education about public sector ethics. Given the high profile of the Code of Conduct, administrative procedures and management practices across the University reflect the objectives and requirements set out. It is also referenced in position descriptions and offers of appointment, forms part of employee induction programs, and is incorporated into relevant training and development programs.

Integrity and Investigations

The Integrity and Investigations Unit is responsible for the management and conduct of investigations into breaches of policies, activities directed against the University and/or its people, misuse of public money and public interest disclosures. The unit also leads the delivery of misconduct prevention strategies, including training, information and advice.

The Associate Director, Investigations and Integrity, reports administratively to the Chief Operating Officer and has direct access to the Vice-Chancellor and President, Chair – Senate Risk and Audit Committee, and Chancellor, as required.

Senate Risk and Audit Committee

The University has a Senate Risk and Audit Committee that assists Senate in discharging its risk management, and internal compliance and control oversight responsibilities.

The role of this committee is to exercise
